Non-performing Power Sector Assets: Signalling a Larger Crisis
10 Desperate attempts to prevent liquidation of power sector assets in companies that are defaults point to a deeper crisis afflicting neo-liberal growth.
— C P Chandrasekhar

Trade Wars of the United States
12 The trade imbalances of the United States have stirred a series of potentially catastrophic retaliatory actions by the US that will have an impact on the global economy and institutions like the World Trade Organization.
— Biswajit Dhar

Redefining the Purpose and Rules of Shelters
17 Regular social audits are a vital starting point for addressing the abysmal functioning of shelter homes for women and children, and should be part of every state's monitoring and awareness-raising mechanism. — Prita Jha

AYUSH and Health Services: Policy and Practice in Maharashtra
20 Maharashtra's policies for Ayurveda, Yoga and Naturopathy, Unani, Siddha and Homeopathy professionals are discriminatory, allowing them to engage in "mixed practice" without ensuring equal status with their allopathy counterparts. — Milind Bansode, Jyoti Rai & Mathew George

Somnath Chatterjee (1929–2018)
24 Somnath Chatterjee's demise has seen politicians across party lines grieving the loss of this stalwart parliamentarian who had inherited the ideology of liberal democracy, and nurtured it all through his long and eventful political career.
— Suvojit Bagchi

A Less Acknowledged Source of Gandhi's Ideas of Trusteeship
36 The different nuances of Gandhian trusteeship are examined by tracing the influences on Mahatma Gandhi that led him to develop his views on trusteeship.
— Jaithirth Rao, Shishir K Jha

All India Radio's Glory Days and Its Search for Autonomy
42 As All India Radio is reeling under the pressure of a managerial conundrum, one should not lose sight of its historic role as a nation builder, as well as its contribution to the cultural landscape of India. — Coonoor Kripalani

Urban Canals and Peri-urban Agrarian Institutions
51 The empirical evidence from fieldwork in Budhera village in peri-urban Gurgaon suggests that the surface water in the canal systems is open to seepage, theft, and waste water irrigation, and has a profound impact on agricultural livelihoods. — Pratik Mishra, Vishal Narain

Participatory Irrigation Management in Maharashtra
59 The Policy Advocacy Coalition Framework is applied to the policy subsystem created by the enactment of the Participatory Irrigation Management legislation in Maharashtra to analyse emergent coalitions for their belief systems, actors, structure and resources. — Varun Panickar

Food Insecurity and Malnutrition among Santhal Children
67 This study is an exploration of various dimensions affecting the nutritional status of Santhal children in Gandey block, Jharkhand, and makes an attempt to evaluate the food security within this community. — Manjari Sinha

Postscript
77 Neha Sinha on the threat that tourism poses to endangered birds and animals; Nilabh Kumar on how pain is a social and cultural construct, and not just a symptom; Tapas Mitra on the global movement on urban sketching that encourages street art; and Last Lines by Ponnappa.